US District Court Judge
District of Massachusetts

Regarding: William McGlashan and Supervised Release

Dear Judge Gorton:

I write this second letter in support of William (Bill) McGlashan's petition for early termination of his supervised release. It's my hope that this Honorable Court will take the many contributions Mr. McGlashan has made to our nonprofit into consideration when assessing the contributions, he has been making to society.

Mr. McGlashan began working to assist our nonprofit's efforts immediately upon his release from prison. Our nonprofit, Prison Professors, produces digital, self-directed courses to help justice-impaired people prepare for law-abiding, contributing lives upon release. Through our courses, people in prison learn how to get ready for the job market.

Thanks to help that Mr. McGlashan offered, we now reach more than 200,000 people every day. We're growing, striving to make an even bigger impact.

Mr. McGlashan advised me on how to grow our relationships with federal prisons and with other providers. Further, as I described in my previous letter, Mr. McGlashan volunteered his time and energy to help me develop a course on personal leadership.

Besides creating the digital courses, I also make live presentations in federal and state prisons. If Mr. McGlashan could accompany me on those presentations, we could do a better job. People who access the lessons in his course would like to ask him questions directly.

Authorities require a record free of any obligation to the criminal justice system to accompany me into prisons. For that reason, I am hopeful this Honorable Court will consider Mr. McGlashan as a candidate for early termination of Supervised Release.

Yesterday I presented at the Federal Medical Center in Springfield, Missouri. In the weeks to come, I am scheduled to present in federal prisons in Pekin, Illinois, Marion, Illinois, Thomson, Illinois, and Milan Michigan. I'll make many more presentations in the state prisons of California. Those presentations would be much more impactful if Mr. McGlashan had the liberty to accompany me.

With hopes that you find this testimonial letter helpful in your understanding of Mr. McGlashan's character and societal contributions, I thank you.

Respectfully,

Michael Santos
